Statement of Need and Target
This online lecture is being provided for UCI and community physicians to increase knowledge and give updated information on current Emergency Medicine topics and research.

Series Global Objectives
At the conclusion of this activity, the participant should be able to:
1. Describe the indications and dosing for epinephrine, steroids, H2 blockers, pressors and bronchodilators.

Faculty Disclosure
Dr. McCoy has no relevant financial relationships to disclose.

Accreditation Statement
The University of California, Irvine School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation Statement
The University of California, Irvine School of Medicine designates this enduring material for a maximum of .5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This activity is in compliance with California Assembly Bill 1195 which requires continuing medical education activities with patient care components to include curriculum in the subjects of cultural and linguistic competency. For specific information regarding Bill 1195 and definitions of cultural and linguistic competency, please visit the CME web site at www.cme.uci.edu.

Expiration: 12/4/2016