DESCRIPTION

This course is essentially a brief exposure to dermatology with each day divided in half to include exposure to general dermatology clinics, specialty clinics, and teaching sessions. The students will function as an observer only in private and specialty clinics. In the UC Irvine Medical Center clinics they will see patients and present patients to the faculty. Students will receive basic science lectures and clinical science lectures during the rotation. Because of the brief duration of this rotation, students planning to choose dermatology as their specialty should take the 4-week dermatology elective rather than this 2-week elective.

PREREQUISITES

This course is intended for third-year students enrolled in the undergraduate medical education program at University of California, Irvine School of Medicine (UCISOM).
